"For me, the YCW is important because it gives a place to young people who don't find a place in other organisations. Young people get chances in the YCW"
- Lien, Belgium

What does the YCW mean for you today?

Yes lien you are right! For me YCW is place to learn and discover your strenght to renew your life. when I involved in YCW i could see myself lot of changes from being shy type girl to a strong type woman. I gain a lot of confidence to express my freedom in fighting my rights as human.

What about others! Do you have same experienced with me? If not please tell us and share with us!:cheer:

Yes that's true, but I think also that YCW has not the same goal than other organisation. I think in belgium we are the one and only action movement who make young people able to change their realities... Every organisation reach different people, they are important too...

@Teresa

I think YCW improve people, make them better harder faster stronger etc... since i start as fulltimer (and before too) YCW help me to deepen my analyse of society, i try to understand more and more
